MAKE HOME BEAUTIFUL.

Home is, or should be, the loveliest side the perry gates or the work of the a part of woman's mission to make it so. The humblest home may be made so attractive that the loved ones will have no desire to leave its sheltering roof. The father, husband and brother, in-The father, husband and brother, in-stead of being absent as much as possi-ble, and returning only when hunger de-mands it, when weary and in want of a place to rest, or sick and in need of a norse, will linger lovingly around the cheerful hearth, and if compelled by business to go out into the cold world, the reluctant footstep will testify to an unwillingness to give up the comfort and happiness of an evening at home. But whose home is happy? Is it him who has thousands of dollars at his com-

who has thousands of dollars at his com-mand; whose walls are lined with ex-quisite pictures, and whose rooms are furnished like a palace? Perhaps so. It may be a very happy home; but it is not the money, the pictures, nor the costly furniture that makes it so. These may add to the enjoyment of the heart, but they are not indispensable to happi-ress.

He whose home is humble, consisting of perhaps only one room, with its bare floor and scanty furniture, may be as happy as the man of wealth.

To insure happiness in either case.

happy as the man of wealth.

To insure happiness in either case there must exist order, neatness, industry, intelligence, unselfishness and love, while over all as a crowning glory, nothing will suffice except the blessing of God. There must be loving ones, or at less a loving one, to welcome him and cher him with her presence.

There must be home ammenters and least a loving one, to welcome him and cher him with her presence.

There must be home amusements and recreations to keep the boys at home, especially in the evening. If parents would only realize that money judiciously spent in beautifying their homes is, in reality, a premium paid their children for remaining there, and that money spent on fine clothes and jewels is a premium to call them away to places where they attract the most admiration and envy, there would be fewer boys lounging about the streets and saloons; fewer cases of shame and disgrace to be borne by the loving ones at home. Furnish the children with innocent amusements—home games and interesting books. Join them in their sports. Make them feel that you love them, and care for their happiness; and as they grow older, there is little danger of their spending their evenings where they ought not.

On the other hand, compel them to sit quietly down with folded hands as soon as they enter the room; make them feel that they are in the way, and the work is begun which ruins hundreds. As soon as they can break away from parental authority, they will go where they are made welcome and urged to come again; where every one seems to be happy; where the social glass is passed around; where cards and dies are handled, and the click of the billiard balls is heard.

While beautifying the bouse, do not neglect the yard. A person who owns a foot of ground, or has the lease of a southern wall, and lets May and June go by without planting a rosebush or climbing rine, is remiss in an important duty. No matter if you do not own the land.

oy without planting a rosebish or climb-ing vine, is remiss in an important duty. No matter if you do not own the land, plant the roots and seeds, and have sweet flowers springing up and blossom-ing around you. Not even the hardest heart can withstand their softening, sub-duing influence.—[Iowa Homestead.

A NEW MINE IN KERN COUNTY .- The Havilab Miner has the following: Ed-ward Henry has made a valuable dis-covery a few hundred yards below the McKeadney mines. Last week, while running a tunnel to a certain lead, he accidentally run into a very large blind vein of quartz, rich in sulphurets and free gold, and it is the presumption of mining experts that this is the mether of all the leads in Havilah District. lead measures fourteen feet from wall to wall. On the banging wall it has a clay gouge of four feet and a half, and the gouge on the foot wall is eight inches, which leaves nine feet of the finest charwhich leaves nine feet of the finest character of gold-bearing quartz. This lead shows big prospects in the horn spoon. No svidence of it ever cropping above the surface has thus far been discovered, unless we consider the McKeadney mine as being located on it. It crosses the line where McKeadney is running his tunnel. This new discovery shows the same indication as the Big Blue of Kernville, which has been traced four miles here and there, diving under a hill, mountain or river, but always appearing again in the direction from which it was last seen, carrying with it blue rock and clay gouges which infallibly indicate the existance of a true fissure vein. The cay googes which infallibly indicate the enistance of a true fissure vein. The line of the McKeadney tunnel as surveyed crosses nine cropping ledges. Of course the number of blind ledges is unknown, but the presumption is—to judge from the recent discoveries, that the mountains are full of ledges that have been covered up by surface ground or decomposed rock.

JEWELL'S IDEA OF RUSSIA .- In a letter to a friend, United States Minister Jew-ell gives his impressions of Russia briefly as follows: This government is of its ell gives his impressions of Russia briefly as follows: This government is of its kind perfection and clock-work itself. The Emperor is a man of brains, force, and progress, and I think has a real love for his people. They certainly appear very fond of him all classes. He appoints the Council, Senate and courts, and these make and execute the laws. His displeasure is not a plessant thing to incur. The people may not be more honest than ours, bnt exposure is too risky. So the shells are never filled with sand, nor do the troops run. The most powerful man here after the Emperor is "Tripoff." Chief of Police—a man of wonderful executive ability—always at a fire, a row, or a parade. He is always just behind the Emperor when out, and says who may come and who may go, and who may be tried too, and perhaps who may be convicted. He just runs this city, and does it to perfection. He is accountable to no person but the Emperor. I send to him to get Americans out of sorspes, or out of the country, or to do anything else. All I know is that it is done. His dispatch to the frontier lets anybody in or out or stops them for examination. He is said to be a very just man, as he is certainly a very just one.

TRIBET-FIVE million dollars worth of cotton is said to be lying in stores or on the plantations in South Carolina swaiting shipment, and the people want the money for it.

Da. JOHNSON used to say, he who waits to do a great deal of good at once, will never do any.

WEAR kind of bread do star actors live upon? Their great roles. A woman who tells fortunes from a teacup is not necessarily a sauceress.
